Dogs Attack Woman On River Beach

A Carmel woman, Miss Beatrice Rudich, was attacked by four dogs on Carmel River Beach early last Friday morning. Her slacks were torn off and she received one bite, which required stitches, before being rescued and taken to Peninsula Community Hospital.

Milton Frincke, Supervisor of Point Lobos State Reserve and Carmel River Beach Park was informed of the incident on Monday. He reports that Miss Rudich, 64, Dolores Street and Tenth Avenue, was bitten several times on both legs by a German shepherd dog. Three other dogs, a collie, a poodle and a mongrel, hysterically circled Miss Rudich during the attack. Later the dogs were seen on River School playground, he adds.

The County animal shelter picked up the four dogs after they were seen at the school and traced ownership of the shepherd, collie and poodle to Lansing G. Stanford, Camino Real and Sixteenth Avenue. The shepherd is under observation at an Ord Terrace pet hospital. Owner of the mongrel is still unknown.

According to Mr. Frincke, Miss Rudich was on the River Beach near the parking lot when she was attacked. Her sister, Miss Tunia Rudich, saw her predicament, took off her shoes and beat at the dogs to drive them away. Miss Joan Kimes, a teacher at River School, was driving past on her way to work, saw the sisters' danger, stopped and enabled them to escape in her car, then drove them to the hospital.

Mr. Frincke emphasizes that no dogs are allowed in State parks between the hours of 8:00 o'clock in the evening and 7:00 o'clock in the morning. At other times they must be attended and on a leash.

Eben Whittlesey, Miss Rudich's attorney, said this morning that

Carmel recreation commissioners at their Tuesday luncheon meeting in Su Vecino Restaurant considered Youth Center finances. Chairman August Nieto suggested they attend the meeting of the Youth Center adult board in City Hall on May 24 "although it's not our job to take any action," he added.

The financial crisis at the Youth Center is the result of a reduction in the allotment from the Community Chest; secondly, notice that no Chest funds will be available this year unless the Center qualifies as a tax exempt institution.

Commissioner George Yates, also a school trustee, advised that the annual school district allocation to the Center ($3,500) may not be continued beyond the fiscal year, starting July 1. He suggested a recreation district to handle the center, also other recreation activities now the responsibility of the school district.

William Wakefield, school district recreation director, informed the commission of a proposed park between the new Valley mouth high school site and Carmel River. Mayor Frank Putnam, Carmel Rotary Club president-elect, said Rotarians have formed a committee to study recreational needs at the Mission and First city property.

Forest commissioners in study session Tuesday night decided property owners should be able to have trees planted on city property in front of their homes without referring the matter to the forest commission and city council for approval.

This procedure takes three or four months. Instead, commissioners favored a more direct arrangement with the street superintendent, but took no action.

Only three members arrived at City Hall yesterday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting of the Arts Commission. This is the second time the group has been unable to assemble a quorum.

Present yesterday were Chairman Gilbert Boyer and Commissioners Maxine Albro (Mrs. Parker Hall) and Glenn Kearns. They suggested noon meetings might be more convenient for the group and even considered a picnic meeting at the Forest Theater.

"We could have our pictures taken on the stage, with someone with a foot through the flooring," remarked Mr. Boyer. For months

City Council Will Attempt To Buy White House To Save Cutting 5 Big Pines

Harrydick Ross, above, is one of 12 sculptors exhibiting in the first comprehensive show of work of local sculptors at the Festival of the Grape, a benefit for the Carmel Valley Community Center, on Sunday afternoon, 3:00-5:00 o'clock at Los Laureles Lodge.

Other sculptors whose work will be on exhibit are David Tolerton, Liesel Wurzmann, Patrick Fitzpatrick, Howell Armor, Joseph Goethe, Dorothy Miller, Nick Guastella, Gene Flores, Wayne Chezem, Alex Weygers and Djey Owens.

Last night at a special meeting of the city council it became evident that the old city council, which closed a lease-purchase deal for the "White Property" in the seven day interval between the election and seating of the new council, were aware that the destruction of five city pines would be involved in moving the White cottage from the property, yet:

Refused an offer from Mrs. Dee White to buy the house along with the land.

Specified in the contract that the house must be moved from the land within 90 days.

The new city council, bound by the $75,000 land deal, made by the old council a few days before they took office, are now struggling with a problem that was no problem to the old council, destruction of city trees.

The property consists of three lots on the west side of Torres Street between Fourth and Fifth streets. It is south of the Youth Center and adjacent to the city's corporation yard on Junipero Street. The planning commission has designated the site for a city hall.

On its tree tour May 3, the new council balked at giving permission to Mrs. Dee White to have five pines and three oaks cut down so the house could be moved across the street to a lot owned by prospective purchaser of the house, George Westcott. Mayor Frank Putnam appointed a committee of Francis Whitaker and himself to confer with the mover to see if the house could be taken through the corporation yard onto Junipero Street and brought around the block to its proposed east side of Torres Street site.

Mayor Putnam reported at the council meeting May 4 that it appeared that more pines would have to be cut in moving the house across the corporation yard but since Whitaker, the other committeeman, had been out of town when Putnam met with the mover, the council held up decision until last night's meeting.

Last night Putnam reported that he and Whitaker had conferred at the site with the mover. Nine pines and three oaks would have to be cut and the moving cost would be increased by $1000 if the house were taken through the corpora-

Unknown Vivaldi Mass In Free Performance By Chamber Group, 2 Schools

On Sunday afternoon, May 22, at 5:00 o'clock the Salinas Adult School, the Carmel Adult School, and the Chamber Music Society of Carmel will jointly sponsor in Sunset Auditorium the first American performance of a Vivaldi Mass discovered last year in Italy. Also on the program will be the Bach E Major Violin Concerto with Myriam Zunser, San Francisco violinist, as soloist.

In view of the fact that the previously unheard Vivaldi work is being presented, the Chamber Music Society has decided to open it up to the public, free of charge, although this concert is the last in the regular subscription series of the Carmel Chamber Music Society's fifth season.

Vahe Aslanian, music teacher at Hartnell College, discovered the forgotten manuscript at Biblioteca Nazionale in Turino while on sabbatical leave last year doing research work in Italy on a Fulbright grant. Aslanian put this major choral work on microfilm and this winter, by projecting the film through a viewer, has laboriously copied the music by hand and copyrighted it.

The Hartnell Community Chorus of fifty singers, conducted by Aslanian and assisted by Gilbert Boyer, will sing the Mass. The orchestral parts will be played by the Carmel Chamber Music Society Orchestra. The composition calls for two small string orchestras, two oboes, one trumpet plus double chorus and soloists.

The Mass consists of a first Kyrie for two choruses and two orchestras; a Christe Eleison for two women's choruses and two or-

Police Work Doubles, Man Hours Work Available Same Says Klaumann In Report; Asks For Two More Men

REPORT BY CARMEL CHIEF OF POLICE CLYDE KLAUMANN

Following is a summary of Police Department activity for the year 1954, as compared to 1959. The charts show in numerical figures the number of cases handled in various categories; the volume of traffic using various key points, and the number of man hours employed for officers handling this work, for 1954 and 1959. Each category will be taken in turn for a brief comment as to its share in the total police activity.

In the total number of complaints handled the cases have increased from 2389 in 1954 to 3229 in 1959. This is an increase of about 50 percent over a period of six years. In point of daily figures the number has increased from about six and one half daily avererage in 1954, to nine daily average for 1959. As to the composition of subject matter in the reports, it appears to break down roughly as follows: Approximately 20-25 percent could be classed as information reports. Here no direct investigation is involved other than recording the information. It is all information important to police work and belongs in the department's permanent records. About 50-60 percent of the reports are of the type where an officer is assigned, and investigation made and a report filed. This concludes the case as far as active investigation is needed. The remaining 15-20 percent are cases where a continuing investigation must be made. The total time which must be spent on each case varies and it would be difficult to estimate a flat figure of time. These cases are generally those involving criminal violations, such as: Checks, Assaults, Burglaries, Fraud, Robberies, Larceny, and in some cases traffic cases. In all of these types

PADRE NINE TRAVELS TO SAN LORENZO FRIDAY

Inept at the bat and unsure in the field, Carmel High's varsity baseball team fell easy prey to the smooth-working Hollister nine last Friday afternoon at the Carmel High diamond. The Haybalers pushed across enough runs in the first inning to win the league tilt and were never seriously threatened by the weak-hitting Padre club. Showing exceptional speed on the bases, the Hollister nine stole seven bases while rolling to the 7-1 victory.

Forrest Cornwall started on the mound for the Padres but needed relief help from Jim Brown in the third inning as the Haybalers connected for three consecutive safe hits. Brown toiled for two innings before giving way to Dave Fuller. Fuller, regular Padre shortstop, showed a good curve ball in his two-inning stint as he struck out five Hollister swingers.

This Friday afternoon the Padres travel to Felton for a league tilt with the upset-minded San Lorenzo Valley Cougars. The mountain boys pulled the upset of the season last Friday when they pinned a defeat on the league-leading Gilroy Mustangs. Carmel clipped San Lorenzo, 2 to 1, in the last outing and Coach Wayne Richards boys will be going all out to even the score at the Felton diamond.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, the King City Mustangs invade the Carmel diamond for a make-up game which was rained out earlier in the season.

PADRE TANKMEN VICTORS OVER WATSONVILLE

Carmel High's star-studded swim squad latched onto the dual-meet swim championship last Saturday morning as it splashed to a 54-41 win over the previously undefeated Watsonville natators. With outstanding performances from the entire squad, the Padres piled up an early lead and were never headed during the meet. Led by Chuck Rogers and Mike Cook, Coach Jim Agan's well-balanced team picked off six first places in the 11-event meet.

Watsonville's lightweight squad packed too much depth for the outmanned Padre limiteds and powered to a 61-9 victory. Bright spot for the Padre midgets was an outstanding 100-yard breaststroke performance by Calvin Poissot. The stocky freshman transfer from Longview, Washington, won the frog kick event in near-record time and established himself as one of the top lightweight breaststroke performers in the league.

Carmel's point-winners in the varsity division were Kirk Johnson, 2nd 440 freestyle; Chuck Rogers, 1st 200 freestyle and 100 freestyle; Mike Cook, 1st 50 freestyle and 2nd 200 individual medley; Art Horning, 3rd 100 freestyle; Rick Johnson, 3rd 50 freestyle; Bert Blanks, 1st 100 breaststoke (new record); Ed Wilson, 2nd 100 breast stroke; Steve Rogers, 2nd 100 butterfly; John Hackbarth, 2nd 100 backstroke; Tim Sloat, 3rd 100 backstroke; Mike McGibney, 3rd 200 individual medley; David Rosenkranz, 1st diving; and Bob Paul, 2nd diving.

Lightweight point-makers were Milton Frumpkin, 3rd 100 freestyle; Bruce Campbell, 3rd 50 freestyle; Cal Poissot, 1st 100 breast stroke; Bob Albee, 3rd 50 butterfly; and Chris Rose, 3rd 100 backstroke.

This Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, the CCAL swim championships will be contested at the Carmel High pool. Tank stars from Gilroy, Santa Cruz, Salinas, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Watsonville, and Carmel will be on hand to try for the CCAL medals.

Pilot Market	3	1
Wilder & Jones	3	1
San Carlos Realty	2	2
Sport Shop	1	2
Turner & McEldowney	1	2
Boys' Town	1	3

In the third week of Little League play, Wilder & Jones and Pilot Market have compiled identical 3-1 records to deadlock for the league lead. Pilots dropped a decison to Boys' Town while the plumbers were clipped by the Pilot Market crew.

Jack Cate's front-running Wilder & Jones gang edged Lew McCreery's Sport Shop, 4-3, in one of the best games of the current season. Dick Thomas was the winning pitcher but he received good support from his pitching mate, Ed Kawanankoa. Jack Mahoney hit a double for the winners and Kawananakoa stroked 2-for-3. Larry Thompson and Terry Tuttle were the only Sports to connect for safe hits.

Don Canham's Turner & McEldowney aggregation parlayed three hits and 14 walks into 15 runs to clip Newt Goodrich's Boys' Town gang, 15 to 3. The game's bat power was supplied by the losers as Clint Macy and Richard Oleson connected for home runs. Lawson Little drove in two runs for the winners. Brian McEldowney pitched all the way for T & M, striking out 7 and giving up 4 walks and 3 hits.

Pilot Market exploded for 13 runs to beat Wilder & Jones, 13 to 1, with Curt Mitchell pitching the win. Tim Head and Terry Mosolf each drove in two runs to pace the Pilot hitters. Jack Mahoney and Ed Kawanankoa hit two-baggers for the losers.

Monday night's Little League action saw the Sport Shop earn its first win of the season by topping Boys' Town, 4 to 1. Tim Petersen's two-base hit provided three runs for the winners while the league's home-run leader, Dick Oleson hit a four-bagger to give the clothiers their run. Ron Mumford pitched the win for the Sports, giving up one hit in six innings.

Wilder & Jones salvaged a share of first place in Tuesday night's game by whipping Jack Miller's San Carlos nine, 11 to 5. Kim Roberts and Ed Kawananakoa shared the pitching for the winners with Larry Little and Jim Sparolini throwing for the losers.

Tonight's Little League game matches Turner & McEldowney with Wilder & Jones in a battle of the artisans. Friday night it's San Carlos against Boys' Town and all day Saturday the "Farm Team" circuit takes over the Little Lea-

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Again the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra has said goodbye to its Conductor, this time in the person of Earl Bernard Murray, to release him to the professional orchestra of San Diego. For a Community Orchestra we have been especially fortunate in having such competent musicians as Murray and for the previous four years Gregory Millar, both of whom raised the vision and capacity of the players and presented comprehensively interesting programs. One of the very best of these took place this week, containing much variety, that drew a capacity audience to Sunset, thankfully hailing Murray for his efforts and cheerful service to the music and musicians of the Peninsula. The standards raised by these two men will now have to be met by a director of similar high qualities for future progress.

The Bach Suite No. 2 that opened with the strings and solo flute, played by Raymond Fabrizio with fine artistry, was the cleanest production ever offered by the Orchestra in phrasing, tonality and modulation. The joyous polyphony of the dance movements and rhythmic accentuations were supplemented by Margaret Fabrizio at the harpsichord in a continuo, while Concertmaster H. M. M. Nicholas used his good bowing in a strong and expressive lead under Murray's sensitive direction. It captivated the listeners and was a good prelude to the coming Carmel Bach Festival.

Followed by the Burleske for Piano and Orchestra by Richard Strauss played by Wade Parks, keen appreciation was raised for another of our local artists who carried out the tricky composition with charm, brilliancy and character and with added dramatic intensity, particularly in the latter half, to his performance the previous evening in Salinas where he also won an ovation, and a token of esteem in a basket of roses was handed him at Sunset.

The Unanswered Question by Charles Ives is a peculiar but fascinating composition that was played by five visible musicians and an offstage second group with unmistakable interpretation of its mystic character.

Ravel's Pavane for a Dead Princess charmed with its dignity and highly musical variety. But it was in Randall Thompson's Testament of Freedom that the greatest strength of the ensemble was shown. Narrated by Eugene Harrah in Carmel and Judge Stanley Lawson in Salinas the stirring words of Thomas Jefferson carried their pertinent meanings, then taken up by the Fort Ord Soldiers Chorus who were applauded as they marched down the aisle to the stage. When I heard this work on a New York radio at its premiere by the University of Virginia, it made a lasting impression which was enhanced in importance and vitality Monday and Tuesday evenings by the excellent Fort Ord Chorus' vocal delivery, the orchestra's execution and the dignified narration of words which are as fitting to today's world condition as when Jefferson wrote them. In short it was a highlight production and a worthy finale to Murray's period as conductor, for in it his guidance was never more spontaneous or impressive and he had to return many times to the demands of the audience, bringing with him Eugene Harrah, and James Nieboer, who, with the ensemble received the thanks of an enthusiastic audience.

News of Gregory Millar having been made Assistant Conductor to Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic caused Herb Caen in the Chronicle to remark that it is now "the last laugh" after Millar's disturbed time with the S. F. Little Symphony! We hope both Millar and Murray will sometime be guest conductors with us if the Monterey Symphony organization progresses sufficiently.

David Abel, the fine young violinist we have heard locally, plays with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under Enrique Jorda this coming week, four times, on May 18, 19, 20 and 21 at the Opera House. Mozart's Concerto No. 4 and Bartok's Rhapsody No. 1 for Violin and Orchestra comprise his program.

I was sorry not to be able to properly attend Carol Crumpley's piano recital at the Church of the Wayfarer on Sunday. I did manage to hear a part of the last number on her program. Judging from her strength and studious attack, it is evident this young pianist is in earnest about making music her profession. She should eventually be able to become another local artist of distinction.

Roberta Tabata Leading Soloist In "Nightingale"

Among the featured dancers in the Emperor's Nightingale, to be presented at Sunset School Auditorium May 20 and May 22, will be Roberta Tabata, a soloist with the Monterey Peninsula Civic Ballet, as the Emperor's nightingale. Appearing as the Kitchen Maid will be Akeimi Ito, another soloist with the Monterey Peninsula Civic Ballet and a frequent performer at the Wharf Theatre. Besides being a competent classical ballet dancer, Miss Ito is an excellent traditional Japanese dancer. Gloria Lewis will appear as the Artificial Nightingale. Cast as the Court Prince will be Paul Vecker, with John Sheckler performing as the Lord-in-Waiting and Ruth Crews appearing as the Emperor. Other featured performers in the cast of over forty actors and dancers will be Charles Burke, who will dance the role of Death, and John Gomez and John Goodloe, who are appearing as Narrators.

Dorothy Dean and Richard Bailey are the producers. Imaginative settings in the Oriental tradition have been designed and constructed by Nick LeFeuvre, who utilized the principle of the reversible screen in creating the settings.

Police Work Doubles, Says Chief Klaumann In Report; Asks For Help

of cases, a successful investigation results in the arrest of the responsible party.

The next category is that of actual arrests made. The total number has increased over a period of six years by about 120 percent. It would be well to bear this percentage in mind in the light of percentage figures in the following categories. The composition of this arrest record shows a large percentage of traffic warrant arrests, drunk in public, and liquor law violations involving juveniles over 18 years of age. A very small percentage is for checks, burglaries, robbery and larceny.

In the category of juveniles apprehended, these figures are those actually taken into custody and not the total number of juvenile complaints investigated. The apprehensions are mainly for liquor law violations of juveniles under 18 years of age. The increase here has been slightly over 50 percent.

The number of assault cases show a great increase, over 300 percent for the six year period. These are cases where a considerable amount of investigation is needed to determine just what the case involves.

The check cases handled by the department show an increase of 150 percent in 1959 over 1954. These cases cover a very wide range, from cases involving one check for non-sufficient funds, to forgery and fictitious check cases where the case involves 12-15 stores and at least that number of checks. The loss in some of these cases runs into many hundreds of dollars. This is a category where a tremendous amount of investigation is needed to clear them up and bring the guilty party to justice.

The burglary complaints show an increase of almost 100 percent over the six year period. This category includes not only known burglaries but also reports of attempted entry where a detailed investigation is needed to establish just what is involved in the case. Some of these cases prove to be either unfounded as burglary complaints or of little or no consequence, but this can be determined only after a thorough investigation by an officer.

In fraud cases the increase has been 600 percent over the six year period. Here again a lot of time must be spent in bringing these cases to a successful conclusion. In these types of cases, an important fact to be established by investigation is whether it is a criminal case or a civil case.

In the case of robberies, mostly strong arm purse snatching, the police experience has been fairly good. Here is a type of case where prompt action from the time of receiving any report and acting on it are usually the key factors. Also, the amount and accuracy of the information the victim is able to supply is a determining factor.

Larceny cases include here all types from petty theft, theft from vehicles, grand theft, and auto theft. This is an area where a lot of "leg" work is involved. Interviews with witnesses and anyone else able to furnish information, plus questioning of any possible suspects. In this category the figures show a small increase. It is only after investigation that it can sometimes be determined whether the case actually involves theft or whether it is only a case of lost or mislaid articles.

The traffic investigation category includes all accident reports and also those involving injury of any kind, plus all hitrun cases. Here the experience has been an increase approaching 100 percent in number of cases. In these cases there is usually very little criminal element involved other than the violation of vehicle laws. But these cases are a time consuming job, and take patrolmen from active patrol during the time needed for investigation.

In cases involving warrants, these are mainly traffic warrants issued on complaint of this department, or those received from other departments for persons residing in the Carmel area. The numbers shown here are in number of complaints, each complaint representing three to four actual warrants. Here the increase has been roughly 100 percent.

Miscellaneous reports include the following: reports of found and missing animals, house watch reports, and information reports received either from teletype sources, radio broadcasts from other departments, and similar sources. These reports do not appear in the department's permanent records, but are information that all the officers must assimilate and have at their finger-tips at all times while on patrol.

Traffic citations show a steady increase over the six year period. This area of activity varies throughout the year, from a minimum during the winter, to a maximum during the summer months. This is a full time job for one patrolman if an adequate job is to be done. When it becomes necessary to take this patrolman off traffic duty to cover other work, we then lose control of the traffic.

This completes the summary of police activity as seen from the number and types of complaints handled and investigated. Now to take a look at the man power which is available to handle this work load.

In 1954 this department employed ten men working a forty-eight hour week. This gives four hundred and eighty man hours of work available.

In 1959 this department employed 12 men working a forty hour week. This gives four hundred and eighty man hours of work available to handle a work load which has increased to just about double the 1954 level.

The critical need is in two areas.

1: A man is needed who can devote his full time to investigative work without interrupting normal patrol work. In the situation that exists now, either the regular patrol or the traffic detail must be neglected in order to conduct any investigative work.

2: A man is needed who can be dispatched to cover traffic trouble spots for an extended period of time. We are receiving an increasing number of calls reporting traffic jams in various parts of the business area and in the beach area. At present these problems must be handled by the regular patrol in addition to his regular work, which results in neither job being properly handled.

Summary of Carmel Police Department reports and activities for years 1954 and 1959.

Traffic Officer.

7:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m.
Lieutenant.

With the chief acting as patrolman on the 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. shift it takes eight to 12 men to man the basic shifts.

The eight men each receive two days a week off making 16 days to be covered. Three men working a five day week cover 15 of the 16 days. This raises the basic manpower to 11 men.

Of the 12 men, three men receive three weeks vacation per year for a total of nine weeks; nine men receive two weeks vacation per year for a total of 18 weeks. This is a total of 27 weeks of vacation to be covered. There are 11 legal holidays in the year for the 12 men which is 132 days or 26 weeks plus. The 12th man is used to cover vacation and holiday time. This totals 53 weeks for the year, with only 52 weeks in the year.

The casual employee hired during the summer three months helps to offset the coverage which cannot be handled by the 12 regular men. When emergency cases or sickness occur we are unable to maintain the eight basic shifts listed above.

It will be seen from the above that with the 12 men available, the department can maintain the minimum patrol. When any emergency or investigation arises that is not covered by the normal patrol, it means that, either the patrol or the investigation, must suffer.

Council To Amend Code So As To Allow Committee System

At an adjourned meeting-study session last night, the city council voted to instruct the city attorney to prepare an amendment to the city ordinance code so that "all matters for the attention of the council shall, upon receipt, be referred to the appropriate committee, for a report of findings and recommendations to the city council."

Now, council matters must come before a council meeting first before they may be referred to committee.

There are to be three committees of two councilmen each: Committee on Administration which will study and report on matters arising on licensing and taxation, personnel, committees and commissions, procedures. Committee on Lands and Improvements whose province is municipal buildings and facilities, utilities, forestry, recreational and cultural facilities. Committee on Public Welfare, dealing with planning and zoning, commerce and professions, education, social and political matters.

The composition of the committees was postponed until next meeting.

Four matters on the agenda were of such importance that the council decided not to wait for the establishment of the permanent committees and asked the mayor to appoint "ad hoc" committees to investigate and report back. They are:

The offer of M. Metzenbaum, by Eugene Harrah, attorney, to deed to the city a portion of Del Mar Avenue, reverting to abutting property upon recent abandonment. Francis Whitaker and Gunnar Norberg were appointed a committee to confer with the city attorney, and present a layman's-eye view of the legal ramifications of the proposal. Apparently acceptance of the land by the city involves denial of access to another property owner.

On the suggestion of the council, Mayor Frank Putnam agreed to serve and appointed Whitaker to serve with him on a committee to handle the following:

A proposal that the city initiate a conference of city, county, and state officials to study Peninsula-wide approach to the problem of beach litter. Whitaker assured objecting Police Commissioner John Chitwood that the city would not be bound by any prevention methods that the conference might propose. The committee would bring them back to the council for consideration.

Study with the planning commission committee on revision of driveway grade requirements in residential areas.

Proposal that the city seek title to beach land from private owners south of Santa Lucia Street.

The council approved Whitaker's proposal that the Forest Commission be invited to prepare a precise tree planting program and submit it to the city council so that funds for carrying it out may be provided in the 1960-61 budget.

NO CHARGES FILED, YET

The Sheriff's office reported this morning that no charges, as yet, have been made in regard to the cutting and removal of plants and ferns last Saturday from the property of Francis I. Brown on Jack's Peak.

The greenery, valued at $400-$500, was discovered being used for decorations that evening at the Carmel High School Junior-Senior Prom.

Sunning Carmelites Applaud Tourist Antics On The Point

Old Carmelites sunning in their accustomed spots on Reamer's Beach Sunday afternoon gave enthusiastic response to unusual tourist traffic on Scenic Drive.

They applauded while a young woman tourist unsnarled a traffic jam of several dozen cars. It was caused when two vehicles were unable to pass at the Point's tip. Waving her arms like a carrier landing officer, the young lady directed frightened drivers how to pass each other without going over the cliff. Carmelites gave her a standing ovation. They had been afraid for a time that one of the cars might possibly land in their midst.

Two mink-caped, behatted ladies in high-heeled shoes also received a round of applause as they scurried round the Point with their suited and hatted escorts, looking hot. These tourists got into their car again when it had negotiated the frightening Point turn, driven by a braver soul.

The King of Nepal and his entourage, preceded by motorcycle escort, received their share of Carmelites' handclapping next.

Lastly two busloads of soldiers were applauded. They returned in kind, but better, and with whistles.

Oldtimers settled down to enjoy the sun in peace until they received a report that a tourist on the rocks had been overheard remarking, "This would be a wonderful beach if it had a breakwater." Carmelites went home . . .it was too windy.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

For the past two weeks we were a little on the short side so far as fiction was concerned, but this week we are loaded. So let's just talk about novels, and you can find out about the non-fiction by checking the posted list.

John O'Hara takes the title of his new book from a line by Alexander Pope which reads "And all our Knowledge is, ourselves to know." The book is called Ourselves to Know. It is the story of Robert Millhouser as told by Gerald Higgins who was 16 years old when they met. At that time Millhouser's life had ended although he was still actually living. His real life ended when his wife died. Robert Millhouser shot and killed his wife. This is the story of the driving forces which cause a man to destroy the wife he loves and emotionally to die with her.

On a Lonesome Porch by Ovid Pierce is a story of the reconstruction days after the Civil War. Laid in North Carolina, it is the tale of the return of Miss Ellen Gray to her plantation home after it had been ravaged by war and left desolate. It has been said that Ovid Pierce has a keen sympathy and understanding for the southern negro and that this is expressed through his novels about the deep south.

To say we have a new novel by Georgette Heyer is almost enough. Her devoted followers in this area are so numerous that all we need to add is the title of the book which is The Unknown Ajax.

Janet Stevenson has a new book based upon the life of Fanny Kemble during the period when she was married to Pierce Butler in America. The title of the book is The Ardent Years. This is a story of the southland and of slavery but this is also the story of Fanny Kemble's revolt against the horrors and indignities of slavery and of her divorce and return to England.

The Affair by C. P. Snow is said to be a study in justice, the scene laid at an English university, the characters the same as have appeared in his earlier novels. This book was reviewed on Monday morning by William Hogan, so for once we are apace with Hogan. Here is The Affair.

We have one new mystery, the new Rex Stout which is called Three at Wolf's Door. This is one of the Kellogg Memorial Collection mysteries and is a composed of three novelettes or long short stories bound together. Good, too.

Summer has come and light reading is fun. Come and have some.

Local Bank Staff Honors Memory Of A. P. Giannini

Last Friday local Bank of America members joined more than 25,000 co-workers in offices in California and the world in honoring the memory of the bank's founder, A. P. Giannini, on the 90th anniversary of his birth.

In a brief observance, August H. Johnson, manager of the Carmel branch, introduced the bank's President S. Clark Beise who spoke to the worldwide staff by recording.

Beise, in his commemorative message, emphasized the unchanging human values which Giannini stressed in the banking practices he inaugurated. These values remain the basis for the organization's philosophy despite changes brought about by electronic data processing and other technological advances, Beise concluded.

Born in San Jose in 1870, Giannini founded Bank of America in San Francisco in 1904. He died in 1949.

Library To Display Kellogg Memorial Book Collection

For the past 12 months the library in Carmel has been adding valuable reference books to its collection through the generous gift of Mrs. Lee Olds Kellogg who gave a thousand dollars to the library in memory of her late husband and his two sisters. Because reference books are of a more lasting usefulness, the library has expended most of the money in that field, the only exception being twelve mystery stories which were purchased because of Mr. Kellogg's sincere enjoyment of a good mystery.

Memorial books given to the library bear the memorial bookplate of the library, listing the names of the donors and those of the persons in whose name the books have been given. Residents of Carmel will recall the activities of Ella Kellogg in music and art, and the fact that she was a charter member of the Bach Festival. They remember that Clara Kellogg was twice a member of the City Council and that she served on the Library Board and the P-TA. They knew Lee Kellogg as an outstanding engineer whose work took him to foreign countries.

A revolving display of these books will be arranged in the case in the reading room. It will be changed often, and each time there will be notes telling what particular reference books contain and how they are used. Some of the books are still on order but the displays will be started this week and as the last remaining books come in, they will be added.

Polio Shots For Everybody At Low-Cost Clinic

Dr. Myron W. Husband, county director of public health, requests all Monterey Peninsula residents who still need first, second, third or booster polio shots to come to the low-cost public immunization clinic on Tuesday evening from 5:00-8:00 o'clock in the USO, Webster and El Estero Streets, Monterey. The Salk polio vaccine will be given to adults of all ages, teenagers, and children six months old and older.

This is the second in a series of low-cost polio immunization clinics sponsored as a public service by the Monterey-Pacific Grove Quota Club, County Medical Society, County Nurses organizations, County Health Department and other civic groups on the Peninsula.

"Any needless case of polio now, five years after the introduction of the Salk vaccine, is a serious reflection on all of us," Dr. Husband says and adds, "The over 40 age limit for adults no longer applies. Paralytic polio can be even more severe in adults than it is in children."

Myron F. Bowers

Myron F. Bowers, 59, was found dead on Friday morning by his nurse in his home on Mission Street between Fourth and Fifth Avenues. He had been suffering from a painful disease and doctors had given him only a few months to live, according to Coroner Christopher Hill Jr., who attributed death to a self-administered overdose of sleeping pills.

Mr. Bowers was born in Minnesota .He had been a pharmacist for 38 years and had lived here for six wears coming from San Jose. Recently he sold the drug store he operated in Carmel Valley because of his illness.

His mother, who lives in Minnesota, survives him. There are no known relatives in this area.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon in Paul's Funeral Chapel with Carmel Lodge No. 680, A&FM officiating.

Plume-bedecked horses driven by liveried coachmen pulled Diane Redding's flower-decorated and satin brocade lined wedding carriage along avenues of flowering trees to the American-English Episcopal Church in the Hague, Holland, for her marriage to John Leonard Van Dien on April 24. Yellow and white tulips decorated the church and the churchyard was a mass of blooming trees and shrubs. The ceremony took place at 7:00 o'clock in the evening with the Reverend V. B. Wynbourne officiating.

Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Redding of Carmel who have been traveling in Europe for the past six months. She graduated from Carmel High School in 1956, studied for a year at the University of Colorado where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and for the past year and a half has been traveling in Europe.

Her parents announced her engagement in February in Zermatt, Switzerland, where Diane and John were skiing. The wedding was planned for April before Mr. and Mrs. Redding's departure for their Carmel home and to coincide with the peak of the Dutch spring season.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Dien of Boyceville, Wisconsin, and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he majored in business management. For the past year he has been accounting manager for Chrysler International in Rotterdam.

Diane was given in marriage by her father. Seed pearls and sequins outlined the scoop neckline of her white peau de soie wedding gown which had long sleeves ending in points at the writsts and a fitted bodice above a pouf skirt that flowed into a chapel sweep train. A seed pearl tiara crowned the full length cascade of her rose point Brussels lace veil and she carried a shower bouquet of white bridal orchids and lilies of the valley.

Diane was attended by Alexandra Nason of Carmel Valley, a friend since grade school days, as maid of honor. She wore a hyacinth blue full length classically draped gown of chiffon, a matching circlet hat of blue ribbon and tulle and carried a sheaf of white carnations and stephanotis.

Five-year-old Antoine Van Ameyde, son of Mr. and Mrs Henri Van Ameyde of The Hague, was ringbearer and carried both rings used in the ceremony on a white satin pillow and wore a bolero dress suit with ruffled white shirt and gloves.

Gerald Willis was best man for the groom and ushers were John Holmes and George Bulterman.

A boys' choir, accompanied by the church organ, sang during the ceremony.

Mrs. Redding attended her daughter's marriage in a pale green satin gown with a stole neckline, champagne hat and gloves and a corsage of green symbidium orchids.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the Hoogwerf, an old Dutch restaurant which was formerly a farmhouse on the outskirts of The Hague. The wedding party drove to the wedding and reception in coaches, according to an old custom in The Hague.

When the bride left with her husband for a honeymoon in Berlin and Copenhagen she wore a champagne sheath dress with fingertip length coat, a Paris model white hat and white orchid corsage.

On their return they will live in The Hague until June, then move to Geneva, Switzerland, where the groom is being transferred.

Carmel Valley residents who were guests at the wedding were Mrs. Hope B. Alexander, at present living in The Hague, Captain and Mrs. John B. Blaker, now stationed at Heilbronn, Germany, Richard Schetter, stationed in Germany with the U. S. Army, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. W. Nason and their son, Bill, currently staying in England. The bride's brother, Dell Redding, was unable to be present at the marriage as he is completing his junior year at Fresno State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Redding will be home in Carmel at the end of this month.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

When new lines go up, chances are you'll see telephone men working from trucks or poles with equipment like this. We call it a "cable-lasher" — it wraps the cable to a strong steel supporting strand. We used to do the job by hand, hooking rings around the strand then drawing the cable through them. The idea of a cable-lasher sounds simple enough, yet a lot of technical work went into making it a reality. It was well worth it though, because our cable-lasher saves us lots of time—and it's economies like this that help us give you more for your telephone dollar.

Balloons, Hot Dogs, Original Doner For Bay Day Carnival

The public and all past graduates are invited to a carnival on May 21 at Bay School, the little red schoolhouse on Highway 1 at the month of San Jose Creek, built in 1886.

Bay Day will begin at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and continue till 4:00 in the afternoon. Carnival events include a rummage sale. Clowns will sell balloons, Indians in war paint will be in evidence, live goldfish will be for sale, also charcoal-broiled hot dogs and homemade cake. Madame Valentina, a little known graphologist, will analyze handwriting. Funds raised by the carnival will be used for projects of the Carmel Cooperative Nursery School, a unit of the Carmel Unified School District now housed at Bay School and directed by Mrs. Rosa Doner.

Special Bay Day carnival event will be the drawing for a Mystery Doner. Ephraim Doner, honorary godfather of the Parent Nursery School, is bringing home a collection of sketches and water colors which he has done in Mexico. A prize winner will select a picture from this collection. Mrs. Russell Williams is in charge of donations for this event.

Bay School was modernized in 1908 by A. M. Allan of Point Lobos when his daughters Helen (Mrs. Julian Burnet), Eunice (Mrs. T. F. Riley) and Margaret (Mrs. L. J. Hudson) were students. Members of the Martin and Hatton families also attended Bay School. Carmel Martin recalls wading Carmel River on his way to school from the Mission Ranch, his home.

Several years ago the one-room schoolhouse was abandoned as an elementary school and turned into the pre-school age cooperative nursery with little change from the original schoolhouse of a half-century ago.

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

In the matter of the application of PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY for authority, among other things, to increase its rates and charges for gas service.

Application
No. 42225

NOTICE OF PROPOSED APPLICATION

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY hereby gives notice that in Application No. 42225 filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on May 6, 1960 it has requested authorization to increase its rates and charges for gas service.

The proposed rates will offset increased costs caused by an increase in the cost of natural gas that is purchased by PG&E from its out-of-state supplier. In addition, the proposed gas rate tariffs will compensate the Company for its other increased costs, will adjust its gas rate zone areas to accord with changes in population and customer densities, and will permit its gas department to earn a fair and reasonable return. The proposed rate increases will constitute an average increase of approximately 9% over presently effective rates for gas service.

The State, the counties, and the municipal corporations which may be interested in the above mentioned application will be furnished a copy thereof upon request made to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 245 Market Street, Room 832, San Francisco 6, California.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Why spiritualization of thought is essential to the peace and progress of mankind will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Mortals and Immortals" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:6): "To be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (256:1-5): "Progress takes off human shackles. The finite must yield to the infinte. Advancing to a higher place of action, thought rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholastic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."

One of the opening Bible passages to be read states (Ps. 37:37): "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Mrs. Kellogg

Mrs. Charlotte Hoffman Kellogg died following a long illness on Sunday evening in the Carmel Highlands home where she had lived for the past ten years with her artist daughter, Jean Kellogg.

Mrs. Kellogg had been decorated for outstanding relief work by the governments of Belgium, France and Poland. She was the author of many published articles and poems, also seven books, and translated Marie Curie's volume, Pierre Curie, from the original manuscript. Following her marriage to the late Dr. Vernon L. Kellogg, distinguished Stanford professor, for 20 years head of the department of entomology and bionomics, who first came here in 1895, Mrs. Kellogg was closely identified with the early life of Carmel. She and her husband had a home on Professor's Row on Camino Real during the era of Dr. David Starr Jordan, first Stanford president.

She was born in Grand Island, Nebraska, in 1874. Her parents emigrated from Switzerland to be pioneers on the American plains. Following the death of her father she came with her mother to live in California and in 1900 received a bachelor of philosophy degree from the University of California. For the next several years she was the head of the English department at Miss Head's School in Berkeley.

Mrs. Kellogg met her husband in Carmel and they were married in Florence, Italy, on April 27, 1908. Until World War I they divided their time between Carmel and Palo Alto. Mrs. Kellogg acted in Forest Theater plays during these years.

In 1915 Dr. Kellogg was called to Washington, D. C. by Herbert Hoover, then sent to Europe as director of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium. Mrs. Kellogg accompanied her husband and was appointed a member of the commission and worked to preserve the Belgian lace industry in 1916. When her husband was assistant to the United States Food Administration, 1917-1918, Mrs. Kellogg spoke publicly many times in support of this organization. In 1918 Dr. Kellogg was appointed head of the Mission to Poland, later he was an investigator in Russia and member of the American Relief Commission. Mrs. Kellogg aided her husband in his work abroad, and during 1918-1919 worked under Herbert Hoover in France. She organized the Paderewski Fund for Polish Relief and directed this project from 1932-48.

Dr. Kellogg died in 1937, after being permanent secretary of the National Research Council, on the executive committee of the Rockefeller Foundation and the International Research Council and alternate for Robert Millikan on the League of Nations' committee for International Intellectual Cooperation. Madame Curie was a colleague of Dr. Kellogg's on this committee and became a friend of Mrs. Kellogg who was delegated to escort Madame Curie to the United States to receive a gram of radium, the gift of the people of America. Later Madame Curie asked Mrs. Kellogg to translate her book about Pierre Curie from French for the English publication. In 1949 Mrs. Kellogg returned to live in Carmel Highlands. Her seventh and last book, Paderewski, was published in 1956. She began her writing career in 1917 with Women of Belgium.

For her humanitarian relief work Mrs. Kellogg received three Belgian decorations, a French decoration and the Poland Restitua medal. She was a member of the American Association of University Women, the Poetry Society of America, the National Institute of Social Sciences, the Belgian-American Educational Foundation, the Kosciuski Foundation, Gamma Phi Beta, and an honorary member of the Monterey Peninsula Friends of Poland.

In addition to her daughter she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Regula Bernays of Oakland; a brother, Martin Hoffman of Piedmont; and a niece, Mrs. Abraham Meldon, wife of a University of Washington professor. Another brother, the late Carl Hoffman, was a California newspaperman and historian.

Private graveside services will be held tomorrow morning at the family plot in Cementerio El Encinal with the Right Reverend Winfred H. Ziegler, retired Episcopal Bishop of Wyoming, officiating.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Kellogg may do so in the form of donations to the Committee for the Blind of Poland, 160 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, New York.

Symphony Players Marry

Monday evening's program for the first time listed Susan Tweedy as one of the Monterey County Symphony oboe players. The former Susan Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Parker of Carmel Valley, was married on Friday to Ernest Tweedy Jr., percussion player for the Symphony.

The ceremony took place in St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove where the bridegroom is organist and junior choir master. Polly Popoff of Carmel attended the bride and Mike Doram was best man for the groom.

The bridal couple honeymooned over the week end but were back to play in Monday evening's symphony concert in Salinas, and in Carmel on Tuesday night.

Ernest is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tweedy of Seaside. He has three sisters, Eileen, Kathy and Marilyn Tweedy, and a brother, Robert Tweedy. He graduated from Monterey High School last year.

Suzy is a Carmel High School graduate and also attended Verde Valley School in Sedona, Arizona. She is the sister of Jay C. Parker of Los Angeles and Kit Parker of Carmel Valley. Her father is one of the best known illustrators in the United States.

Both Suzy and Ernest are music students at Monterey Peninsula College and will live in Monterey.

Dahls To Visit Israel

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Pebble Beach and their four sons will visit international headquarters of the Baha'i faith in Haifa, Israel, from May 15-23.

Mr. and Mrs. Dahl were at the fifty-second annual national convention at the Baha'i Temple in Wilmette, Illinois, which ended on May 1.

Madame Ruhiyyih Khanum, one of the nine chief stewards of the faith, from Haifa, and widow of the late Shoghi Effendi, Guardian of the Faith, was present at the Wilmette meetings.

Fourth Canoles Grandchild

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canoles have returned from Sparks, Nevada, where they welcomed their fourth grandchild on April 4. He is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hursh (Carol Canoles) who have named their son, Victor Jack, after both his grandfathers.

His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. V. Hursh of Sparks. He has three aunts, Mrs. Ernest Zanetta (Patsy Canoles) of Marina, Sister Andrew, Order of Notre Dame, Seahurst, Washington, the former June Canoles, and Peggy Hursh of Sparks. Bruce, Craig and Lynn Zanetta of Marina are his cousins.

On their return trip to Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. Canoles stopped in Sacramento to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sweetnam. The former was previously director of recreation at Pfeiffer State Park, Big Sur.

Peninsulamen Officers Of CAE

Richard Bennett of Del Monte Properties Company has been elected Vice Chairman of the California Association of Employers for 1960-61. K. Nobusaba, Monterey restauranteur, has been re-elected to the Association's board of directors. Vernon Hurd, general manager of Holman's, Pacific Grove, relinquished his post as Chairman of the CAE Board in which he has served for the past two years.

The Association, at its annual membership meeting in San Francisco April 27 criticised the State Supreme Court for reversing its position and approving organizational picketing.

A four-man majority of the Court Law restored the power of labor unions to picket indefinitely for a contract at a store or plant where it has only a minority or even no members.

Art On The Peninsula

A new show of paintings by former Carmel resident Ralph DuCasse, Charles Gill and Thomas Rigney, and sculpture by Robert Dhaemers, all Mills College faculty members, opened at the Lawrence Drake Gallery, San Carlos and Eighth Avenue on Friday. It was assembled through the cooperation of Antonio Prieto, chairman of the art department, and is shown here through his courtesy. Last month the show was exhibited at Montalvo in Saratoga.

New hours at the Drake Gallery are 12:30-5:30 o'clock, daily, Tuesday through Sunday. Closed on Mondays.

Howard Bradford, Big Sur artist, has been awarded a John Simon Guggenheim Grant for Creative Printmaking. Mr. Bradford and his wife, Dorothy Bowman, have been outstanding artists in the development of serigraphs, having worked in the medium since 1948, and have gained both national and international recognition. Their prints are represented in most of the major museums in the United States, and many of the leading museums in Europe, including Bibliotheque National in Paris, and Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

The Bradfords and their five children plan to spend a year in Europe, leaving around the first of December.

Howard has a show of oils and watercolors opening at the Coast Gallery in Big Sur on July 16. Dorothy will have a one man show there in the fall of the year.

Carmel Highlands Gallery is showing contemporary oil paintings by Walt Peregoy of Southern California and ninteenth century graphics including a Renoir etching, Munch portrait, Millet etching, Marie Laurencin and Kathy Kollwitz lithographs. The gallery is situated behind Highlands Inn in the old fire house.

An exhibition of black and white prints by Wynn Bullock, the Monterey photographer whose photographs were picked by the New York Museum of Modern Art as among the best of the half-century, will open in the Monterey Peninsula College Library Lecture Hall Monday.

On Thursday evening, May 26, Bullock will lecture on Creative Seeing in Photography, illustrating what the artist calls "...the various levels of realism in photography."

During this lecture, he will show a number of color abstractions representing his latest experiments in non-objective designs in light.

Alice Askew Says "Work Is Half Done" For Poppy Day

"The work is half done," reports Alice Askew, Chairman of American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Day, which will be held in Carmel May 20 - 21.

"In hundreds of hospitals over the country each year, there is a great flurry of activity, beginning in January and ending in March. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary meet at the hospitals, cut petals, count wires, and assemble packets of these in lots of 25 each," she told the Pine Cone. "Disabled Veterans from both World Wars and Korea who so wish and according to their physical ability spend time each day putting together the little red crepe paper poppies that mean for many of them all the personal income they receive in a year, according to Mrs. Askew.

Again they have finished their part of a big job. But the job is only half done.

"Now comes the part that these men depend on all of us to finish, for these men are paid by the American Legion Auxiliary for each poppy they have made. In other words the American Legion Auxiliary buys them outright."

On certain days designated by the Department of the Auxiliary the poppies are offered to the public as a remembrance of the men who gave their lives for our safety, and to help those veterans confined in hospitals and their families. All money the Auxiliary receives from the poppies must be used for these purposes. This is a part of the other half of the job.

"The final part rests with the citizens, who wear the little red flower with honor, in respect and gratitude for the sacrifices made for all of us."

4,000 poppies have arrived by mail and May 20 and 21 will find members of the Carmel Auxiliary Unit offering Carmelites another chance to pay their respects to our Veterans.

The money returned to actual hospital inmate use goes to Palo Alto Veterans Mental Hospital for both men and women patients.

Mrs. Bacheller

Mrs. Flora L. Bacheller died last evening at her home at Camino Real and Fourth Avenue. She was born 65 years ago in Spokane, Washington.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Lauher, San Mateo; a son, Ernest Reed, Stockton; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Darnielle, and a brother, Richard Fisher, both of Spokane.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Mission Mortuary. Inurnment will be in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

Carmel Trustees Authorize Plans For Valley H.S.

Carmel Unified School District trustees on Tuesday night told architects to proceed with preliminary plans for a new high school at the mouth of Carmel Valley.

Ernest Kump of Palo Alto and the firm of Elston and Cranston, Carmel, working as an architectural unit, will prepare design and site plans for the school to be built on 45 acres across the Carmel Valley Road from the Rancho Rio Vista entrance. A federal loan will finance the preliminary planning. When construction is started, if a bond issue planned for October is successful, the Carmel district will pay back the federal loan.

Trustees deferred until their next Wednesday meeting any discussion on construction of a new elementary school on ten acres west of the new high school site.

They approved purchase agreement for the Metz property for a new upper Carmel Valley school. This ten-acre site is a mile east of the Carmel Valley Road where it goes through the Village. Cost is $2,500 an acre, with Carmel district paying one-third, Mr. Metz two-thirds of the cost of constructing a road to the site.

Three new teachers were employed: Charles Sciutto, high school vice principal; Harold Lippstreu, additional industrial arts teacher at the high school; Sunee Bjorkman, first grade, River School.

Mr. Sciutto is now principal of Truckee High School. He is a University of California graduate and has taught in Barstow, Quincy, Elk Grove and Geyserville. He is married and has three children. Mr. Lippstreu, a Chico State College graduate, is a beginning teacher. Miss Bjorkman also is a beginning teacher. She is a San Francisco State College graduate.

INTERSECTION ACCIDENT

Two Carmel persons were injured in an accident at the intersection of Casanova Street and Seventh Avenue at 7:37 o'clock this morning.

Verlaine Crawford, 16, was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. She was hospitalized with a broken arm and minor injuries including cuts and bruises.

Elmer Nagy was also hurt in the accident which is being investigated by the Carmel Police Department.

Louis Conlan, Carmel realtor, suffered minor injuries on Tuesday evening when he lost control of his car on a curve on Highway 1, about 7:30 o'clock, a little under a mile south of Little Sur River. Southbound, he hit a guard rail then bounced into a bank, according to the California Highway Patrol report. The Big Sur Red Cross ambulance took him to the Peninsula Community Hospital following the accident.

Dr. Broaddus Honor Guest

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Broaddus leave next Thursday for Cleveland, Ohio, and on May 24 will attend the annual dinner dance of Western Reserve University School of Medicine. Dr. Broaddus graduated from the school 50 years ago and has received an invitation for himself and Mrs. Broaddus to be special guests at the event in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation. While in Cleveland the Broadduses will stay with Dr. and Mrs. Ellery P. Edwards, former friends at Oberlin College and Western Reserve University.

The Broadduses have just returned from a trip to Stockton where Dr. Broaddus had an eye, ear, nose and throat practice for 30 years before coming to Carmel to live. They also visited their older son, Bernard A. Broaddus, in Stockton.

On their return trip to Carmel Dr. and Mrs. Broaddus will stop in Kansas to visit their younger son, Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Broaddus, and his family at Fort Riley where Lieutenant Colonel Broaddus is First Division Surgeon. He graduated from Western Reserve Medical School in 1944. His five children attended Carmel schools when his wife stayed here for two years while Lieutenant Colonel Broaddus was on various Army assignments.

A GLEAMING NEW HOUSE that looks like a miniature Walt Disney castle, but has the very newest in utilities, fixtures and commodities, all combined with beamed ceilings, used brick fireplace—and old world coziness. It is a two bedroom home with a large tile bath, ultra modern kitchen, and room for everything one needs for contemporary living. The double garage is oversized, and with its shake roof and brick trim looks like a separate house on the estate-like premises. Can you believe it is being offered at $19,500? So it is.

HAVE A HOUSE OF YOUR OWN "MAKING" without going through the "aggravations" of actually building it yourself. This four bedroom house is being built now, but there is still time to choose your own colors, fixtures, even appliances. There is a large living room, family room, 2½ baths, utility room, lots of closets, and a large garage. Excellent Carmel location. Priced at $36,500.

IF YOU DON'T MIND MILD EXERCISE, here is a most charming house built on separate levels. There are a few steps between the two bedrooms and the living room and kitchen areas. The wood paneling is appropriate framing for the lovely view on the garden and the mountains in the distance seen through picture windows. Still at another level there is a studio room and bath for guests (paying, if possible). Priced at $29,750.

NO HITS-LITTLE SPARROWS STILL WIN GAME

Although unable to connect for a safe hit off the somewhat erratic pitching offered by the Rocket hurlers, Dr. Bill True's Little Sparrows came through with a 9-5 victory over the hard-trying Rocket gang in last Saturday's "Farm Team" opener. Darryl Dawson pitched the complete distance for the winners and showed good stuff in the tight spots.

Rod Ruskell received excellent infield support from his mates to pitch the Padres to a 5-4 win over Ewell Cole's Nikko crew. Ruskell showed excellent control in his six-inning stint, holding the Nikko sluggers to 3 hits. Mark Holbrook, Padre catcher, stroked a pair of doubles to share hitting honors with Sid Johnson who drove in the winning run.

Maurice Stoney's Carmel Plaza squad got off to a winning start by edging the Derek Rayne nine, 6 to 5, in a well-played game. Bob Ross pitched the win for Carmel Plaza, receiving help from Paul Culver and John Kimbark. John Kalmbach, Jack Argieste, and Rick Taylor shared the mound duties for Derek Rayne. This game went seven innings and was hotly contested all the way.

Keo Fukagawa's Village Inn continued its winning ways by clipping the American Legion, 12 to 6, with Gary Kearns pitching the win. The little righthander gave up only one run in his five-inning pitching stint. Jeff Wickham helped pitch the win while Jeff Dinsmore, Jay Jepson, John Forsman, and Benny Artellan fired them over for the Legion. Jim Baldwin stroked a triple for the winners as Benny Artellan clubbed 2-for-3 for the losers.

This Saturday's games match Village Inn with the Padres at 9:00 o'clock; Rockets and Derek Rayne at 11:00; Little Sparrows and Carmel Plaza at 1:00; and the American Legion with Nikko's at 3:00.

REALTORS CHALLENGE AND DEFEAT MONTEREY IN GOLF

The Monterey Board of Realtors accepted the challenge of the Carmel Board of Realtors to a golf tournament played on Tuesday at the Del Monte golf course. Some 32 players engaged in a desperate battle for the supremacy of the links. The Carmel board easily walked off with the traveling trophy by a score of 30 points to Monterey's 14½. In the interests of continuing the excellent cooperation between boards such gathings will be promoted by the Carmel Board to include neighboring cities in the near future.

Don't Talk About Our Own School Building Needs Until After J. C. Election, College Campaigner Asks

When Carmel School district trustees met with the citizens committee for the bond election on Tuesday night, Mark Raggett, member of the citizens committee for the bond election, reported that he had received a request from Dr. Robert E. Newton, chairman of citizens for the junior college, asking that the bond committee delay as much as possible any publicity on the bond election until after the junior college campaign ends on June 7.

School board and bond committee agreed that a new high school at the mouth of the Valley was more desirable economically and aesthetically than constructing a junior high school in this location. They also agreed that the $3,000,000 bond election for new school building should be held in October. If the election were postponed until spring a year would be lost. During this year Carmel pupils might have to attend double sessions because of insufficient classroom space.

If the new bond issue passes an additional 35 cents will be added to the 1959-60 $3.22 school taxes, total $3.57 for residents of Carmel Valley and Carmel Highlands, who are still obligated for Monterey district bond taxes undertaken before these areas annexed to Carmel district. Property owners in the original Carmel Unified district will pay $2.99 plus 35 cents, total $3.34 following the bond election.

Trustees and committee members estimated, with a possible additional 24 cents added for rising costs in the district during the coming six to eight years, Carmel district school taxes will not exceed $3,81.

This year Pacific Grove school taxation amounts to $3.50 and on June 7 this district will vote on a one dollar override tax. Monterey school taxes for 1959-60 amount to $4.69; Salinas district $3.60 with an additional seven cent junior college tax planned, total then $3.67.

Comparing these figures the groups decided Carmel district was in good financial standing even with additional bond taxation.

The decision to build a new high school rather than a junior high school at the Valley mouth site came after considering that the present high school will be overcrowded with an estimated enrollment of 720 students next year, more than 1,000 in 1963-64.

Ten to 12 new classrooms would have to be added to the high school in the next four years to accommodate this expected enrollment, also a new library, a new or additional gymnasium, two lecture halls and more science rooms.

Carmel High School site is 27.88 acres. The modern state minimum campus size for a high school is 45 acres. In view of the enlargement required on the inadequate high school site it was thought not economically or aesthetically feasible to spoil the beautiful high school campus by putting buildings on lawns and driveways for short term planning.

If Carmel High School were enlarged, the same situation as exists now would arise again in four years. With a new junior high school on the Valley mouth site, accommodating an expected 728 students in 1963, Carmel High School at the same time, with an estimated maximum enrollment of 702, would be operating at full capacity for the enlarged facilities. A new high school would be needed. Ultimately Carmel district faces a high school enrollment of 1500 students. The two groups decided it would be wasteful to enlarge the high school. Nothing would be gained by four years' time.

Therefore the consensus was for a new senior high school (grades 10-12) for 750 students to be ready in 1862, this school to be expanded to 1500 students when needed. The present high school will become a junior high school (grades 7-9). When this school reaches its capacity, future planning suggests a junior high in Carmel Valley.

chestras, a Second Kyrie consisting of an Adagio, and an Allegro Fugue; Gloria for contralto solo, chorus, trumpet, two oboes and strings; Et In Terra Pax for chorus and strings; Laudamus Te for two soprano soloists and strings; Gratias Agimus Tibi for chorus and strings; Domine Deus for tenor solo and strings; Domine Fili Unigente, four voiced fugue for chorus and orchestra; Domine Deus Agnus Dei for soprano and oboe duet with continuo accompaniment; Qui Tollis for chorus, two oboes and strings; Qui Sedes, contralto solo and orchestra; Quoniam Tu Solus Santus for soprano solo, two oboes and strings; Cum Sanctus Spirito for the whole chorus and orchestra.

The great Bach Violin Concerto in E Major included on the same program was described by Forkel, a contemporary of Bach, as follows: "One can never say enough of its beauty."

This concerto was regularly given in the Berlin Singakademie even in Zetter's time. Emanuel also performed this concerto in Hamburg as evidenced by the meticulous copied parts left to us by Philipp Emanuel.

The first and last movements are full of an unconquerable joy of life. In the middle Adagio the violin moves about over a basso ostinato which involuntarily brings to mind the idea of Fate.

In 1941 Miss Zunser, the Bach soloist, came to California as assistant to Henri Temianka, first violinist of the Paganini Quartet. For several years she conducted the Berkeley String Ensemble and appeared in sonata recitals with her talented sister, Tanya Ury, and the masterful pianist, Bernhard Abramowitsch. In 1955 she taught advanced violin at the San Jose State College and served as concert mistress of the College Symphony Orchestra. She is a member of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra and has been heard on the Peninsula at the Nepenthe concerts.

Four Dogs Attack Carmel Woman At River Mouth Beach

the two sisters are accustomed to walking to the beach from their home and back each morning. Last Friday morning Miss Beatrice Rudich left first, walked down Carmelo Street to the River Beach, went down to the water and was returning when she was attacked. Miss Tunia Rudich left for the beach a little later. She was walking along Scenic Drive when she saw the dogs surrounding her sister and rushed to her rescue.

past the commission has been asking the city council to repair the Forest Theater, cost $5,000, so that an Arts Festival can be centered there in October.

Mr. Kearns reported that Charles Thomas, chairman of the Festival Coordinating Committee, had said his group is considering producing the festival without the Forest Theater. A small beginning this year may be good, commissioners informally decided.

Council Will Try To Buy White House To Save Cutting 5 Pines

tion yard and around the block. He said that Whitaker had a proposal which he recommended: that the city attempt to buy the house, rent it until the land is needed for city use, and then "raze" it. Rental income would pay for the cost of buying the house, and the city trees would be saved.

Contingent upon permission to remove the trees, Mrs. Dee White has agreed to sell the house to George Westcott for $2500; furniture for $750, Westcott to pay for the moving to his property, Putnam reported. In the original proposal, turned down by the old council, the house had been offered to the city for $5,000.

The council voted for Putnam and Whitaker to talk with Mrs. White regarding purchase of the house by the city and report back at an adjourned meeting of the council Wednesday, 7:45 o'clock, to precede the public hearing of the citizens' protest of the planning commission's approval of the plans for a parking garage on the Fenton property.

There was one "no" vote, holdover Councilman John Chitwood's. He stormed about "breach of contract" though he was assured by the other council members that no breach of contract was contemplated. They hope to work out an agreement that will be mutually satisfactory to the property owner and the city, and save the pines.
